The Western Massachusetts Sports Commission is brand new, created specifically to help your organization discover the very best sites and venues for sporting events in our terrific part of New England. With unequalled access (and zero traffic headaches), outstanding event facilities and a hospitality industry second to none, Western Massachusetts is at the center of New England. We've got an impressive regional sports resume, and no shortage of unique attractions to experience before or after the competition. But mostly, Western Massachusetts provides what every event planner absolutely has to deliver: real-world, bottom-line value.
